

It is our pleasure to invite you to join fellow ReSource Pro clients for a unique one-week journey of networking and innovating in China between September 20 and 24. This event follows our successful 2008 Innovation Summit, and we expect this one to be even more exciting.

For those of you unfamiliar with our 2008 Innovation Summit, I invite you to read the Insurance Advocate magazine article and view two short videos on our site. An extended 90 minute video of the whole trip is available upon request. We also recommend that you talk to our Summit Ambassadors – clients who attended the 2008 summit who can share their experience of this event. I would be happy to put you in touch with them.

Emphasis on working with your teams and networking with your peers.

The event is designed to facilitate relationship-building between you and your teams while also enabling you to network, and share best practices with other ReSource Pro clients.

Innovation and Preparing for the next Economic upswing:

Our theme for the Innovation day will be focused on how Insurance Agencies (Retail, MGA, etc) can best prepare for the next economic upswing and how to best manage staff, technology and other resources to focus on core competencies. The final agenda that will be publicized over the next few weeks will include tracks for both the executive level as well as the operations level attendees.
